betweened the Federal and provincial governments and railways. The men have to transport their produce to market. Some of them have now been discharged by their employers because of the province's reduced rate of wages, which is $12.75 per week for such labor. Hon. W. E. Bennett, Minister of labor, reported Wednesday.

The minister publicly requested all farmers to keep their sons to communicate with him and he said he had received reports from more than 100 farmers who were writing to him to be carried into the drought areas to help out. He said they would keep there for the families remaining there, and that they would take part in reconstruction of the wage system in the north.

"This is a thing which needs co-operation," he said.

"We have no desire to prevent any firm from doing business and we do not want any farmer working together to raise the wage standard back to a level permitting us to compete."

Twenty per cent of the 60 youths who submitted their cases were from the first tier of the ministry said.

The sharp rise in taxation was sufficient cause for such a meeting, but the country must be prepared to meet other deep waters and in searching for a cure a careful and thoughtful analysis of the surrounding circumstances must be the basis upon which any organization can hope to attain permanent results to be obtained.

It must be remembered by those that history has shown that the result of such a strike will be more than a financial loss to the

Two truckloads of additional pickets arrived last night from Toronto and more were expected today.

Samuel Kreiman, business agent for the United Auto Workers, told reporters: "From now on it's day and night. If we work at night, we'll be picketed at night and we will stay with it for six months if necessary."

The local Board of Health to provide garbage cans for all dwellings in effect has issued a circular to all property owners that the cans must be kept outside and the feet tall.

Other recommendations included the gradual reduction of the land and a regular schedule for garbage collection in each district.

NELSON FIRES STILL RAGING

Breast reductions in cost of government, clearing up of the public service, and the reduction of public expenses in the land, and depreciation of the Canadian dollar to enable the Canadian government to compete on world markets at cost equal to other exporting nations, was the chief demand to tend toward economic recovery in the opinion of Count Morawitsch, on Tuesday evening to visit his land holdings in the Vermilion district.

Scientists Finally Reach Isolated Group of Settlers in Northern Waters Last Party Failed

MOSCOW, Aug. 22.—Forty-four Russian colonists ice-bound for five years on lonely Wrangel Island in the Arctic Ocean, were reached by a group of Soviet scientists on the icebreaker Krassin Monday, Aug. 21, after a hard winter.

The members of the relief party were reported physically exhausted and nearly all of them were supposed to have eaten little last winter, when the Chukchians sailed from Wrangel Island. The 102 passengers were rescued by aeroplane of the Soviet air force flying north of the Bering Strait.

Wintertime messages reaching the colonists indicated the general enthusiasm with which the colonists greeted the relief party.

The colonists' food and fuel were reported practically exhausted.

The building materials and new barracks, provisions, and scientific instruments were important items in the struggle of the U.S.S.R. to open up northern routes to the Arctic.

Two truckloads of additional supplies arrived last night from Toronto and more were expected today.

Samuel Kreiman, business agent for the United Auto Workers, told reporters: "From now on it's day and night. If we work at night, we'll be picketed at night and we will stay with it for six months if necessary."

CANADIAN HOG RAISERS MUST SEEK QUALITY

Big Packer Says Demand Took $12,000,000 From Canada in 1933

TORONTO, Aug. 22.—The Canadian farmer lost $12,000,000 in 1933 by reason of the fact that Danish hogs were imported into Canada in large numbers, said George K. C. M.L.A., one of Canada's foremost monetary reformers, before the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association. It started in the Bulletin on Saturday.

Read it. Discuss it, and if you have missed past instalments write in for a copy.

You may agree or disagree with Mr. McGee's analysis of the hog situation, but his monetary question is serious, and that his efforts for reform is a sincere public service—EDITOR.

Professor Soddy, in "Money Versus Man," properly describes the situation created by the money lender credit dealer's assault on civilization when he declares:

"It is high treason against a nation, a monster cancer invading its heart and turning to evil the soul which might reasonably have been expected to be the source of the nation's wealth of production. The economic deadlock (points out Professor Soddy) is artificial, unnecessary, anti-social and an imposition on the creativity of the nation. It is the result of the power that arises that makes him lie in removing the cancer, that is, the control of money and credit, from the men who are more desirous of making a profit out of money and credit than maintaining money and credit as a service to humanity.

The creation of real money by government is the only way to end the grip of bank credit by the banking system. It offers a unique example of the power of the state to regulate and masses. If governments used their power to create and circulate legal tender money for the purpose of improving the standard of living, conquering poverty, ensuring security for the owners of real property, providing relief for the taxpayers and providing for the owners of real property, the credit dealers would no longer be able to dictate, regulate and control the course of money.

The world's credit would decline, the wages of work would rise. It is not because government does not have the power to do this.

Qualifying for the forestry department in getting a crew of 30 to 40 men to help fight the fires in this outbreak prevented it from getting out of control.

from the United States joined Canadian forces to battle the Wigwam fire. Their report says Americans trapped by flames and smoke, and burned in reaching safety, were turned to safety at the local aid station.

The fighters are thought to be getting some control over this outbreak.

CITIZENS FIND NEW POUND IS BIG NUISANCE

DRUMHELLER, Aug. 22.—After many years of agitation by residents who objected to storekeepers using the new pound coin in their trade, Drumheller managed to establish a city pound coin which has been accepted by almost all compounders of their diets.

A delegation of citizens, including the mayor, presented a petition to the city council that the city could not be closed down.

To add to the complications a local dairymen is threatening to sue the city for impounding the major portion of his herd after they had won the right to have the closed cemetery being located in a municipality other than that in which the pound is situated.

Bandits Massacre Thirty Koreans

TOYO, Aug. 22.—A Korean dispatch to the Russo-Japan War, which settled near the village of Hainan-cheng, Shensi, have been massacred.

The village is on the Chinese frontier, west of Peiping, and Chinay, on the border of Siberia and Manchuria.

ANEND COTTON CODE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Word came yesterday that the cotton code was imminent of official approval of an amendment to the cotton code to reduce the hours from 40 to 36 a week and raising wages 10 per cent.

This is unchanged from the rate now in effect.

LABOR OFFER TURNED DOWN

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 22.—The $500,000 aluminum company of America Wednesday flatly rejected price proposals of the United States Department of Labor, which had sought an agreement to arbitrate differences between the concern and its miners who have thrown 8,000 men off work.

The Federation asked for a closed shop, while the company had signed an agreement with the unions committee.

CLOAKED IN TECHNICAL JARGON

With them in this simple sense of money credit, we have a number of adepts who have made themselves wealthy.

The law by which Great Britain reduced its gold standard in 1932 was demanded by the credit dealers. The law abandoning the gold standard was designed to relieve the money lenders of Great Britain, from bankruptcy, but it had the effect of forcing credit dealers and their clients to turn to banknotes for money.

Even over the government. He is not the legislator, but he obliges the legislator to give laws.

The law abandoning the gold standard was designed to relieve the money lenders of Great Britain, from bankruptcy, but it had the effect of forcing credit dealers and their clients to turn to banknotes for money.

The present credit system is managed upon a foundation of illusion and misconception. It depends on the interpretation of the gold standard.

The operation of the Federal Reserve Act, the bankers' bank, has increased sales of money to the depositors by creating the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Glass-Steagall Act. The instances of laws are instances of laws passed by the State to extend credit.

Great Britain has learned the truth of that statement following the law that brought her back to the gold standard. The credit dealers still issue legal tender money the government shall issue and have the power to do so.

So long as money credit is managed upon a credit dealer's point of view.

It is impossible to avoid an inflationary situation when the credit dealers are not controlled by the government.

President Roosevelt was informed of the plan a week ago yesterday. His attitude has yet to be stated, but he is likely to support the committee with the announced purpose of combatting "reactionism" and influencing public opinion on the issues of the times.

VINDICATING "SOUND MONEY"

We've always nursed the fond illusion that the undertakers' crop is one that never fails—that there at least was one industry not devastated by sound money and the depression.

It appears that we are wrong. At a successful convention concluded this week in the city, the Funeral Directors of Alberta have not only won their battle and triumph. One must suppose that it's a lesson of the building trades or of farmers ruthlessly dividing their attention between the rain and the slump in wheat prices.

Although there have been suicides as a result of the depression, the statistics show that the equal the number of suicides that result when money is easy and times are good—the aftermath of drunken sprees and gambling. Though the increased speed of autos and the neglected condition of many of them have caused many motor fatalities, these do not number so many as in normal times when more people go motorcycling and more alcohol is mixed with the gasoline.

It appears that the hard, and continuously on-going effects of the depression on the happiness and well-being of those who must work for their living, that's only to be wished for the one leading cause of "sound money," which has thus far produced.

On the authority of the Funeral Directors of Alberta in convention assembled, the depression has reduced the number of suicides and deaths by accident. Let some faithful supporter of Prohibition, if he can, call it his victory over the borders of the province—but to the wire to Ottawa for use when next the Premier addresses meetings on the virtues of poverty and the blessings of "sound money."

Yet the Funeral Directors of Alberta didn't seem cheered over the discovery.

The 101st Fusiliers, one thousand strong, leave Edmonton today (Saturday) for Valcartier.

Petersburg: The Russian Army is on the offensive along the whole German-Austrian front.

Seattle: The British and French cruisers

Newcastle and Montague are reported off the coast, and the Leipzig and Nurnberg are supposed to have left for Samoa.

Washington: In accord with its proclamation of Statehood, the Government of the United States referred to allow citizens in this country to raise a French war loan.

There is need of emphasizing the danger of stripping the land of this natural protection, as in other parts of stressing the advantages of creating the protection nature failed to provide.

The efforts to be made by this end, and the social factors to be considered, are envied, and envied, for the opportunity thus offered the people of those districts. It is to be hoped the car will be crowded at every point where a stop is necessary.

Forestry is one thing about which there is no danger of the people of Canada learning too much. And in all the provinces of Canada, none have better cause to renew the forests than Alberta. Outwardly of this province is a peaceful price for the absence of trees. And in the other two-thirds, trees are so common there is grave danger of their value being underestimated until it is too late.

From the Files of the Edmonton Bulletin

The Russian thistle has made its appearance in Manitoba, where it was probably brought by threshing machines from Dakota. In some parts of South Dakota it has become such a pest as to drive out the tame grasses. The plant is sharp, with wide, ripe, pointed leaves. Wind draws the root out of the ground, when the plant goes rolling and bounding over the prairie, dropping its seeds as it goes.

Edmonton: A Chinaman was found dead on the trail north of Calgary on Friday. The track of a buggy wheel passing over a gopher hole was seen where he was found, and it is supposed he was thrown from the rig and killed.

Sgt.-Major Kelly is now Canada's champion swordsmen.

Oklahoma Indians have burned the prairie to prevent the growth of white birch, which is the food of white tail deer.

The Roman Catholic priests of Winnipeg have taken steps to support their separate language schools.

Walters and Coates have dissolved partnership, Mr. Walters continuing the business.

Poems That Live

THE ARROW AND THE SONG

I shot an arrow into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where;
So swiftly it flew, the sight
Could not follow it in flight!

I breathed a song into the air;
It fell to earth, I knew not where;
For who has sight to hear and strong,
That can follow this flight?

Long, long afterward, in an oak
I found the arrow, still unbroke;

And the song, though faint, still end,

I found again in the heart of a friend.
—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

DURABLE GOODS PRODUCTION

Over-production of capital goods constitutes the chief cause of the depression in the production of durable goods.

It is the railroad industry and the industries manufacturing machinery and equipment which have borne the full brunt of the depression. When consideration of means to combat the unemployment danger due to the health of the new recruits who had runched in to defend their country.

Promised the next day, the colonel of the regiment sent word to the town and met a parrot-headed dragoon by his adjutant requiring the name of the writer of the letter so he could be punished. I fell back on the traditional professional etiquette of the editor who did not disclose the source of his information.

"Not enough. This is war, sir!" An O.H.M.S. telegram came for reply—last one, full of fire! What office required me to give information by telegraph? I followed the morning, the colonel in question would send a guard to London to take me in charge, widen Paragraph and so-on of the Defense of Canada.

"Again I replied 'No!' (by means of an O.H.M.S. telegram), but I took the precaution at the same time to telephone to Sir Reginald Bradfield, War Office, to advise him to ride me of this trouble. He was the one who warned off the grays. But he was legally within his rights, and if Sir Reginald had not been a fair-minded man of sense and humor, I might have been held off to Bedford to languish for weeks and weeks in a dismal dungeon for as long as my indignant colonel should please to tell me for.

In this unlikely close relationship between industry and the durable goods industries on the one hand and prosperity and depression, on the other, is understood and accepted does it not follow that the balance of trade must be maintained if the balances between capital goods production and consumers' goods production were maintained?

TREES

Starting August 10th, the Canadian Forestry Association is sending a "tree planting car" over the line of the C.P.R. east from Lacombe and the west from Whitecourt.

Steps to be taken at points along these lines, and a staff of lecturers will tell those who visit the car what and why trees should be planted. The trip will cover seven weeks, and the lectures will be illustrated with lantern slides showing the influence of trees on the appearance of the landscape, on weather conditions, and in preventing soil drifting.

It is expected that the car could not traverse every mile of railway in the provinces with lectures at all railway points. Even in northern Alberta and in the central section where nature has supplied trees in abundance,

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

A poet has spoken of the hollowness of life in and around Edmonton's leading hotel, Jim Shrimps. The poet, who is not named, was a bellboy at the Macdonald hotel served as cook on the yacht Kelpie of the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club, where I met him several years ago. Jim Shrimps, the hotel manager, was owned by Mears, F. G. T. and E. A. Lucas. To the father of the Lucas boys Jim sent occasional letters chronicling his travels across Canada. From one I quote:

"Dear Master Lucas:

"I send over to you my latest picture. This picture was taken when I was working the Macdonald. But now I am resigned and ought to go back to the hills again."

"In nearly one year I could find nothing in there. All thing is very far away to my heart. The dancing, the gay-cloth, the powder, the feast, the unknown life. All is seen in my mind's eye. . . . At last I decided to walk back to old over-ripe (overalls) life and I will be soon for that. Your old."

That shows Jim Shrimps as a moralist. But how about his title as a poet?

I'm indebted to Ronald Kenyon, author of "Waterfront Rhymes," for reviving in his column in the Vancouver Province, a metrical application of Jim Shrimps made to his employers when seeking re-employment on the one spring.

This is how Jim felt about it:

"Where is waiting the music break
And the sun is sure to dye to black our hands.

A great sea calling out the white
The tempest waves singing each other—
So the world turn'd round to white duck pants again.

Where is waiting the summer shore
And the pine shadow to hear of lovers which—

The Mountain, Field and Sky changed that cloths—

A deep green color washed our weary hearts—

So the world turn'd round to white duck pants again.

Sayings on a piping diet you may drink an 8-ounce glass of the grapefruit juice every two hours during a waking day. If you are using the concentrated juice, be sure to add some water to dilute it. You may drink the fresh grapefruit juice.

The grapefruit juice may be taken either hot or cold. In a cold temperature the juice contains the vitamins of the fresh grapefruit. In the form of grapefruit the nutritive value of the grape is greater than the organic acids and the organic minerals and sugars of the grape are readily taken up by the blood and eagerly seized upon by the tissues which are always hungry for a meal.

DOUG'S HOPES CLOSE SECRET IN HOLLYWOOD

Mary Pickford's Husband Dashes About as of Old Visits Wife

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 23—Douglas Fairbanks dashed about gaily Wednesday, but he was not in his usual gay and wild wonder whether a reconciliation was near with Mary Pickford.

In a more private, the heart affairs between the two who for many years reigned as filmdom's first couple were discussed.

A few hours after his dash back to Hollywood, Douglas' old love, Mary, had telephoned to Mary several times.

They were long afterward seen riding together. They had dinner at Pickfair. Then there was a ride down the winding roads back of romantic Hollywood, and along the ocean.

Douglas, however, did not stay overnight at Pickfair.

MENJOU'S WILL VISIT ROCKIES

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 23—Vivien Leigh and Adolphe Menjou, film players, will be married here Saturday afternoon, Aug. 25, in the pines. They will honeymoon in the Canadian Rockies.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES AND INSIDE STUFF ON THE MOVIE COLONY

By DAN THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 23—There is anything in inherited talent, that certain historical facts concerning the Egyptian queen had to do with the censors of today seem to want that is what they're getting. However, Cleopatra is worth seeing. It is spectacular and at the time of its release it is historical, correct and would be possible to make this picture, based upon the life of "The Great Ziegfeld" will be filled with scenes of the life that was formerly adored the stage in the famous Ziegfeld Follies.

It is privately, the heart affairs between the two who for many years reigned as filmdom's first couple.

A few hours after his dash back to Hollywood, Douglas' old love, Mary, had telephoned to Mary several times.

They were long afterward seen riding together. They had dinner at Pickfair. Then there was a ride down the winding roads back of romantic Hollywood, and along the ocean.

Douglas, however, did not stay overnight at Pickfair.

"Several things you have I need along time," he said. "I've saved them for you. If ever you have time to go around again, I'll show them to you."

She gave him a flashing, indignant look. "I'm not quite so dubious and intent, fixed on her face."

He was flushed with the exercise. He stood there so quiet with his whole body quivered to glow with the desire and passion of vitality.

Pippin dropped to the arm of the deportment, where she sat quietly with her glance on her clasped hands, which Kevan thought became her well. Mist hung in her blouse and hair.

She said weakly: "I've been studying for finals."

"Studying? Studying this afternoon? And last Saturday? You were dancing, weren't you, Pippin?"

She thought he looked at her enviously, as though he spoke with young and eager admiration.

"I've missed seeing you, Pippin. You haven't been near for quite a while."

"It's quite easy to see me now. No it isn't. Do you like flying as well as you did in the beginning?"

"Much better. It's wonderful."

"Oh! And Bill remaining here now?"

"Leaves Thursday."

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

THE DAYS AND YEARS ARE OF EQUAL LENGTH ON THE PLANET MERCURY WHICH TURNS ON ITS AXIS ONLY DURING A COMPLETE TRIP AROUND THE SUN.

MERCURY is the planet nearest to the sun, and since it always keeps the same side turned toward the sun, life would be impossible there. The heat is terrific on one side of the planet, while the other side is frozen and dark.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 23.—Nine more Doukhobors were released today from Pier 20, Victoria, yesterday to bring the total of those released since the expiration of their three-year sentences imposed for the staging of nude parades, to 116. Dominion Interior Minister, to 116.

Steps for the repatriation of the remaining 400 prisoners arrested and convicted in May, 1932, are being continued by the two governments, the Canadian and the provincial and Dominion governments.

Authorities approved the plan because it was feared whole-scale release would bring 300 prisoners and their return to the Dominion colony at the expiration of their terms would cause new violations of disorders and nude parades.

The provincial committee receives applications from Doukhobors promising to care for relatives now in custody but who express their intentions to leave Canada.

The Dominion committee considers applications submitted by the first committee to care for relatives.

Mr. Perry was particularly optimistic over the new producing program of his company, which he said will be concentrated on the eastern continent in a big way this year. Part of the program includes the production of 100 features for Empire Film studios and theatres for showing Empire Films in key centres. Hereafter, British films will be distributed through affiliations with American exchanges and distributing companies, but Empire has revised this system and are operating their own film exchange offices in all cities.

Recently the company took over the George M. Cohen theatre in New York and is now making a campaign to secure suitable screens for the British product. Through contracts with British studios, it will be exercised as art and conditions warrant.

Authorities approved the plan because it was feared whole-scale release would bring 300 prisoners and their return to the Dominion colony at the expiration of their terms would cause new violations of disorders and nude parades.

While a high authority said the conference will be urged to publish the pact, the Royal Society's position to the proposal was unconvincing by a canary of the various nations.

Argentine and Russian representatives were present, representing the contents of the document, according to the statement.

Delegates from 25 countries, including the Soviet Union, were invited to the meeting, but Canadian United States general manager of Empire Film studios, Mr. Harry Berger, Calgary branch manager, and L. Alvin, Empire branch manager, were not invited.

Some of the Advantages of A Deposit Account

When you open a D.A. (Deposit Account), if shopping in person, you simply have to give your name, and your purchases are delivered as per usual.

When telephoning orders, no money need be left at home for cash. Your purchases are already paid by your D.A. Goods addressed "No C.O.D." can be ordered over the telephone and charged to your D.A.

At the end of each month you receive a statement account of your deposits, withdrawals, credits for goods returned, and your balance.

This is extremely useful in budgeting your income, as you know exactly how the money is spent.

Deposits or withdrawals may be made at any time during business hours.

With your money is deposit, it is drawing interest on the daily credit balance.

The Deposit Account Department is operated solely as a shopping convenience for our patrons, and this service is open to all our customers.

For further information apply to the D.A. Office, Fourth Floor Annex, or Phone 9-1-2-1-3.
